Week 2024

MAY 6—12

LOVE

&

TRUST

Love knows no limits, and trust is built on caring for one another. As we celebrate Deaf Awareness Week, let's open our hearts, bridge the communication gap, and embrace the beauty of diversity within the Deaf community.

During Deaf Awareness Week, we'll infuse love and trust into our efforts of raising awareness for communication needs and advocating for equal access to tools and services. Our goal is to foster a collaborative environment where individuals, organisations, and governments work together to create an inclusive society. Through education and advocacy, we'll break down barriers and ensure that love and trust guide us towards a world where communication access is a fundamental human right for everyone, regardless of their hearing ability. Let's build a world rooted in love, trust, and open communication.
